

Teammates: JC Zaragoza, Cody Karigaca

the main difference between the vanilla bot and the modified bot is the rollout method we used for both. Essentially, how it chooses what moves to do when simulating games. The vanilla bot uses random elements to navigate the rollout and choose which option would be the best among the random choices. On the other hand, the modified version uses heuristics and pre-determined good moves to make choices and help it win the game.